

Living in Times of Change Series

Mind-shift Seven

John Edge

The Mind-Shifts So Far

Just to re-cap that this Mind-Shift Series is about building a template of new perceptions that reposition our lives - away from being focused on a journey from the past - to transition to a connection to new ideas and ways from a completely different future that we seek .

Mind-shift 7: A Global Web of Consciousness

We are forming a new global interconnected web of consciousness through the inter-arc-ing of our care and concern for the future.

A New Network of those who Care About the Future

It is extraordinary to see how a network is growing across our world today of those deeply care about the future of ourselves and the Earth.

This web of care is expanding continually including those of all ages creeds cultures, races and background who see the threat to and possibilities for all our futures .

'The future of the world, in whose hand? In your hand, brother, in your hand! But do not mistreat the world. deal with it as your best friend, as your only friend.' Horace, poet, 65 – 8 BC

Let's Recap How this Happens ...

Musicians know that when you ring one tuning fork, other tuning forks on the same frequency begin to vibrate in response

And this Connects Us to Others...

So we create webs of sympathy with others whose ideas and values are on the same wavelength, on the 'tuning fork' principle that 'Like goes to like'.

“A small group of thoughtful people could change the world. Indeed, it's the only thing that ever has.”

Margaret Mead, anthropologist, 1901 - 1978

Building An Arcing Wave of Concern

This wave of feeling can arc across the world through the unseen media of human consciousness as a profound sense of concern, binding us together.

But also critical to this is the conscious exchange of ideas without which we cannot properly manifest these concerns into effective life changing actions.

“In reality, there is a single integral community of the Earth that includes all its component members whether human or other than human. ... Every being enters into communion with other beings.”

Thomas Berry 1914 - 2009

Communicating Ideas and Values

While we know we live in a more connected world, this conscious exchange of ideas is still critical to the our self education.

When woven together, it is these new mind-sets, spiritual values and consciousness that create our Mental Net ...

And this is how we 'catch' further new ideas as they emerge from the future that is rushing towards us – individually and collectively

Growing Possibilities of Exchange and Connection

It is remarkable that alongside this need for a global exchange of ideas we are seeing the growth of all kinds of possibilities to build networks that facilitate this new wave of consciousness.

Traditional methods are being dramatically enhanced by the many new media that link the world instantly and can help bring us together in this quest.

Working with Others across the World for our Future

As the issues we face now affect the whole world, so it is profoundly true that we must seek to work across boundaries with all those we can to find the new ideas, perspectives and actions that are critical to all our futures..

New revelations are continually unfolding and there are millions of us now concerned to explore them.

The more ... I regard the world, the less can I see any possible ... future for it except in the active consciousness of its unity. Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (1881-1955)

Thank you for joining us today, we hope you enjoyed it!

You may like to explore the Discovery Zone videos.....
You can find the links on www.templatesforchange.org